STATE LAND OFFICE, CARSON CITY, NEVADA, October 22, 1900.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT THE State of Nevada, under the Act of Congress approved June 16, 1880, (21 Stat. 287) has filed in the United States Land Office at Carson City, Nev., No. 283 of lands selected under said Act, and which were patented to the State; that a part of said lot is open to the public for inspection, and a copy thereof, by descriptive sub-divisions, has been posted in a convenient place in said United States Land Office for the inspection of all persons interested and the public generally.

His system is educational and is applied to almost every kind of dog. He first teaches the animal obedience by training it to perform certain "tricks" at command and then trains it to distinguish between a visitor and a burglar and what part of a man's body should be attacked to render the man helpless.

Outside of the gate the trainer places a dummy representing the burglar, and to the latch is attached a string. By means of the string the gate is opened slowly, until the head of the dummy becomes visible, when the dog is taught to fly at its throat. Herr Straus is very particular about this. He makes his dog attack the throat or the upper part of the body always. Sometimes a real man well padded takes the place of the dummy, and of course he is well paid for his services.

All dogs, it seems, may be made good watchdogs, but the St. Bernards and the Russian wolfhounds are the best where property of great value is to be guarded.

For dogs not so fierce as they are a different system of training is used.

They soon learn to guard anything committed to their care, but are not so quick to attack an intruder as the fiercer dogs are.—Philadelphia Times.

THE CRIMINAL CUCKOO.

He Is the One Exception to the Kindly Nature of Birds.

Bad temper and cruelty are perhaps the most obvious signs of mental degeneration in the beasts. The larger monkeys, for instance, become as bad tempered as a violent man when they grow old, and many in their treatment of other animals are cruel as we use the word in regard to man. Among the carnivorous beasts the cat amuses itself by torturing a mouse, and the weasel tribe kill for sheer love of killing.

No such cruelty is seen among eagles or falcons. Fierce as their tempers are, they do not torment other birds which they catch or kill for kill-ing's sake. Good temper is general among birds.

Except the cuckoo, such a thing as an ill tempered wild bird is unknown.

Nowhere in the race can a temper like that of the Tasmanian devil or the wild hunting dog or the Cape buffalo or the baboon be found. Even those which in spring are thieves and egg robbers are not mauvais coeurs at other times. Good temper and good fellowship in society, a personal affection to each other to which the beasts

offer no parallel, industry and independence, intense devotion and foresight in tending their young, with other very human and engaging traits of character, must all be credited to the race of birds.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this com- munity that such an enterprising firm as S. J. Hodgkinson secured the agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The furor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung Troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50cts. and $100

Henry Ritter's free lunches are made from the best material the market affords; enough for a hungry man. A bit buys a good drink to wash it down.

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 7, 1900

THE DAY OF THE BATTLE.

The contention of a free people at the ballot box in a peaceful and orderly manner is a triumph of reason over brutal methods of government included in the will power of one man or in the will power of a class of men that should be maintained with the greatest jealousy by the people. Any innovation upon the right of the people to govern, however slight, should be removed without waiting to discuss the propriety of the removal. Any attack made upon the right of the people to govern is an assault upon a right that should be held sacred by each lover of liberty. There should be no ground for discussion about the propriety of repelling the attack, or about removing the cause given as an excuse for making it. It is said in sacred history that the earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof, which is a reasonable admission of a fundamental truth to the Creator of all things.

Liberty belongs to the people and the fulness thereof. Among the rights that make up the fulness of liberty is the right to govern, which is fundamental and exists as a part of the order of things, which includes the reason there is for holding the right among the sacred rights possessed by the people.

At this writing it is not known what will be the result of the contention at the ballot box upon the question including the right of the people to govern but the result will not effect the right in any particular as it is as has been said fundamental. Should it be that the people deny the right from causes remote from the principle involved, which causes may include ignorance, passion, prejudice, and immoral or unlawful desire in its many forms, it will not effect the contention in this advanced age of moral and intellectual intelligence. The contention will go on in all of its forms gathering strength from the higher and better principles there are in man till ignorance and immorality will be overcome by the stronger and more exalted there is in his moral nature.

Ignorance will in some measure effect an affrayment of the right but its affrayment will be effected more by passion and immoral desire. The immoral desire will continue to make itself known through means of oppression used to acquire more money from the poor to a continued taking of life through starvation such as there has been and continues to be in the island of Porto Rico. The contention is such that the power of money is opposed to the right there is to self government by the people and for the people. Its course is in opposition to them as its object is to use them, to acquire money.

There is no other source to acquire money through the avenues of commerce and trade, except the sources furnished by industry. An inordinate desire to secure wealth is a whip applied to dishonesty which drives it to the use of means that have no bounds within the limits of decency and morality. Strange as it may seem, it is none the less true that people who profess to have in them a controlling influence claimed to exist in a Christian faith aid and support the oppression, whose deeds are not only questionable, but are so wicked that a way-faring man, though a fool, can read and understand them.

It may be that there are causes operating which the people do not understand. We believe there are many such causes, but there is sufficient in view that can be seen by any man, however plain his understanding may be, to convince a mind that is seeking truth of the wickedness there is practiced to secure money at the expense of the poor and the toiling millions upon the earth by those whose god it is.

Should defeat come to those who are the friends of the people and free government, the condition of the dinner pail and like conditions in the next few years will produce arguments that will reach minds which the intelligence of those who are working to aid in emancipating them has no seeming impression upon.

LILIES.

Lilies, white lilies, ye calm my soul,

For the waters are wild and the billows roll,

And love and trust have drifted away,

Like the distant sail on the breast of the bay,

In a moment more 'twill have drifted from sight!

And be hidden away in the waste of night!

And then ye came with your pure, sweet gaze,

With your dainty, winsome, loving ways,

And crept like a deer dream into my heart,

I could not hear to send thee apart,

For the fragrance that floats on your balmy breath,

To me whispers "peace," though the world calls it death.

—Rose Van D. Speed in Scranton Tribune.

COULDN'T FOOL HIM.

This Man Knew a Steamboat When He Saw One.

The agent of one of the ocean steamship lines, says the Chicago Tribune, told the following story of a St. Louis man who got into New York the day after the maiden arrival of a great liner:

After gazing at the vessel from the pier the St. Louis man said to the man at the gangplank:

"'Perty good sized steamboat!"

"She's a liner, ocean liner," was the lofty reply.

"She's purty high up, ain't she?"

"Ocean liners have to be. But when she is under way she doesn't look so high."

"Her chimneys ain't very high, though."

"You mean her funnels. No; they never make them high for liners."

"Hinges on 'em?"

"Never heard of hinges on a funnel."

"How does she get under the bridge?"

"What bridge?"

"Why, any bridge. Steamboats out our way have hinges on their chimneys, and when they come to the bridges over the river they lower the chimneys, and she scoots under like she was greased."

The man at the gangplank observed the St. Louis man with lofty indifference.

"She ain't got any wheelhouses on her sides nor none at her stern," remarked the St. Louis man after he had made further inspection.

"Liners have propellers," said the man at the gangplank, and his nose turned up visibly.

"Well, I'll bet she can't run. It takes two wheels and a bow like an arrow-head and a scant hold to give a steamboat speed, sonny, and don't you forget it. If this steamboat was to get into the Mississippi, she'd go hard aground first clip."

"I have told you this is not a steamboat."

"Shucks! You can't gimme that. I saw a picter of her in one of our newspapers before I left home, and the printin under it said 'steamboat.' Do you think a St. Louis editor don't know a steamboat when he sees one? You're not on to your job yet."

SOWN BY GUNPOWDER.

A Curious Way of Covering a Rocky Crag With Plant Life.

In the grounds of the Duke of Athol and near Blair castle, England, stands a high, rocky crag named Craigleabarns. It looked grim and bare in the midst of beauty, and its owner thought how much prettier it would look if only trees, shrubs, etc., could be planted in its nooks and crannies. It was considered impossible for any one to scale its steep and dangerous acclivities, and no other way was thought of to get seed sown.

One day Alexander Nasmyth, father of the celebrated engineer, paid a visit to the duke's grounds. The crag was pointed out to him, and he was told of the desire of the duke regarding it. After some thought he conceived how it could be accomplished. In passing the castle he noticed two old cannon. He got a few small tin canisters made to fit the bore of the cannon and filled them with a variety of tree, shrub and grass seeds. The cannon was loaded in the usual way and fired at the rock from all sides.

The little canisters on striking the rock burst, scattering the seeds in all directions. Many seeds were lost, but many more fell into the ledges or cracks where there was a little moss or earth. These soon showed signs of life, and in a few years graceful trees and pretty climbing plants all sown by gunpowder were growing and flourishing in nearly every recess of the formerly bare, gray crag, clothing it with verdant beauty.

The Name Sioux.

The Indian name Sioux, as it appears in such town names as Sioux Falls, Sioux City and Sioux Rapids, is usually pronounced "Soo," but sometimes in the east chiefly, that simple pronunciation is not known. A committee man not long ago visited a school in New England, where he heard the pupils say "Si-ox" with complete assurance. At a favorable opportunity he quietly spoke to the teacher of the error, saying, "You know, it is 'Soo,'" whereupon she asked the attention of the school and solemnly announced: "You have all been pronouncing this word wrong. It is not 'Si-ox,' but 'Soop-ox'." The committee man lacked the

FUSIONVICTORY

In This City and County the Republicans Lost Their Fight.

The figures given below indicate that fusion was successful in Reno at least. The Silver-Democrats have given Bryan and Stevenson, Congressman Newlands and Judge Fitzgerald handsome majorities. The Republicans paid a handsome compliment to General Tarrattin. There is still doubt as to the outcome in the matter of Short Term Regency.

Prof. R. D. Jackson won hands down. Messrs. Jacobs, Beckham, Webster and Hastings are Reno's choice for Assemblymen. Sheriff McMonis has been re-elected. The outcome of the County Clerk fight is still in doubt. Recorder Shearer is sent back to his office by a two to one vote. It is hard to tell who is the next District Attorney, although Cutting stands a good show at present. Stewart got more votes than Chalmers, and is hereby elected County Surveyor. The Democracy saved Joe Peers. Holcomb will serve as one Commissioner, but the short term county dad-hap is hard to guess at. Judge Linn stands a fair show to become his own successor, and Charlie Leeper will probably be chosen Constable. These figures given are the count on the fifth ward up to midnight, and the others up to 11 o'clock.

Two Desperate Criminals.

The Journal's Correspondent Writes About This Camp.

Jell Poole, one of the proprietors of the Slip mill in Olinghouse gulch, spent yesterday in Reno. The mill has shut down for repairs after three months of activity.

The latest run was on 31 tons of Kearney & Effick's ore. It yielded $14 a ton. This was a test of the rock in the Renegade mine leased from Bender & Co. There is a lead three feet wide in the bottom of their shaft.

W. C. Williams, the father of Olinghouse gulch, has 150 tons of $90 ore ready to run through the Slip mill. Only three weeks ago he cleaned up 42 pounds of gold.

W. H. Jackson of the Jumper is sinking a wing in his tunnel on 18 inches of $40 rock.

In the Slip mine preparations are being made to sink 100 feet on the 100-foot level in a lead of $57 rock.

The canyon is coming out wonderfully. It is believed that the liveliest camp in Nevada will be doing business in the gulch within another year.

Mr. Burton Heard From.

The JOURNAL is indebted to George D. Burton for eastern papers containing items about Nevada. Mr. Burton writes in an enthusiastic manner concerning the outlook for mining properties in this State. He expects to return to Reno in a week or two, having almost consummated the extensive deal which took him east.

Watching.

The entire population of Reno turned out last night to get the election returns. Two cineographs flashed specials on the screens as fast as they arrived. Manager Brown of the Western Union made arrangements to have results wired from all parts of Nevada.

What Wadsworth Did.

A private dispatch was received at midnight, stating that 105 votes had been counted in Wadsworth. McInnis received 71 of them. Wheeler beat Jackson two votes, and Farrington had 20 majority over Newlands.

They Struck It Rich.

It was a grand thing for this community that such an enterprising firm as S. J. Hodgkinson secured the agency for Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, the wonderful remedy that has startled the world by its marvelous cures. The favor of enthusiasm over it has boomed their business, as the demand for it is immense. They give free trial bottles to sufferers, and positively guarantee it to cure Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma, Croup, and all Throat and Lung Troubles. A trial proves its merit. Price 50cts. and $100.

An Ingenious Contrivance.

Messrs. Hawcroft & Fogus of the fire department have constructed a rheostat for charging the storage batteries from the electric light circuit. They have arranged a marble slab two feet square in a brass frame. It contains twenty-one contact points for varying the current. The contrivance is a marvel of ingenuity and evidences a thorough knowledge of applied electric mechanics.
